

Ranking datasets

1. Option datasets

These datasets are very lightweight since they are never actually downloaded. The library `yfinance` has methods that scrape the current data from the internet.

2. Global Crisis Data

This data set was very easy to obtain and required very little coding to make python compatible.

3. Stock Price Data

These datasets are python compatible and easy to obtain. However, they are more for support and not the training data.